As a future tech leader, the importance of self awareness is that it helps in discovering self thoughts and that helps to live well without any suprising thing about yourself.

self-aware people have a fundamental belief in their ability to achieve a goal, and this trait helps leaders thrive in everything they do.

I gained skills of discovering myself(self- aware) hence reduction of being deceived

I will be practicing self-awareness through doing what I want and wish to,not being controlled by others opinions just doing my self
